"Look within me; For I am you."
Todd Farnsworth

A yearbook enhances the fondest memories we have of high school. It lets us see ourselves in a way we never did. The Traces Yearbook will always be a special part of each of us. It serves as a source of fond memories and will be an active reminder of our days at Fermi. Glancing through its pages, we can look back and relive past activities, and cherish single moments. If we gain only this from our yearbook, we have condensed a major portion of our lives into a brief chronicle.

Enjoy what follows . . . for it is everyone of us.

"I am asking you what you want to be,
Asking you what you want of me.
Telling you there is nothing in yourself
Ever to fear.
And wondering if you hear."
John Holmes

Aside from our parents, the people who will have the most lasting influence on our lives will be our teachers. They will learn what our goals are, to what extent we will pursue them, and proceed to point us in that direction.

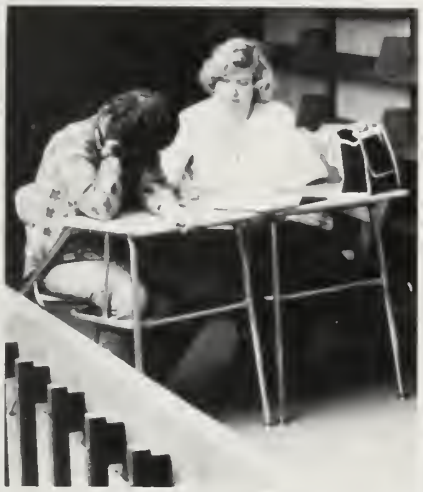

Despite this, they are only minor partners in the business of education. They cannot thrust something upon us which we don't want. They cannot create a mind, a heart, or a will to learn. They can only try to develop what we have brought to them. To deny teachers this is to deny ourselves, for an education is the most valuable thing we will ever have.

Teachers can open the window and point to the horizon. They can light lanterns and put them in our hands, but we must walk into the dark alone.

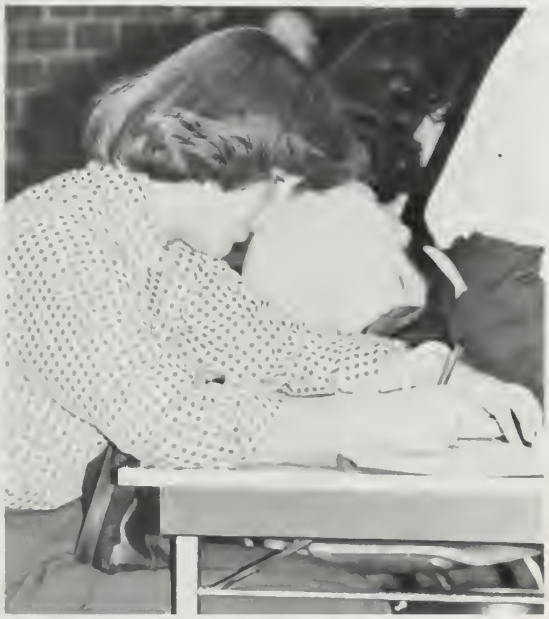

OH-NO!

"My confidant, my inspiration, my strength — my Friend."

Our friends — we laugh with them, we cry with them. We dare to be ourselves with them, for they accept the bad along with the good. They make us feel a little more special than we really are.

Our friends — we learn with them and from them. We communicate, exchange ideas, and grow together. We share what little experience we have, and make each other whole.

Our friends — they enrich our lives, forever. Wherever we go, we carry a part of them with us. When we are in solitude, we are content, because together or apart, we are friends.

We are about to begin a new journey into the unknown, the unfamiliar — but we will be no more alone than we are now.

"Mirrors of the soul."
Kahil Gibran

We are overflowing with them, but they are difficult to understand. They give us the power to experience the thrill of a good report card or the agony of a failure. Without them we would cease to exist as humans. There would be no love, no hate, no anything. We would be lost. We would not be individuals. They are the I of everyone of us. They are our Emotions.

"To be real, to be fully alive, one must be constantly active."

We have made many discoveries about ourselves, and among them is the need to be active — to do something that is a reflection of ourselves.

We have chosen athletics, and have pushed our bodies beyond all limits. We have nursed broken bones, sore limbs, and often hurt pride, but we have endured.

We have chosen to create — to take a lump of clay and mold it into something beautiful. We have taken an idea and watched it materialize.

We have been dedicated, serious, and creative in the effort to express ourselves. We have strived to grow through our activity — we will take this growth with us.

"Hello; I'm Leaving"
—Todd Farnsworth

For years we have been stepping in and out of Fermi's doors, classrooms and buses, but it is only now that we will take our first step.

Every day when we stepped in and out of these doors, we were preparing for this event, although many of us didn't know it. As ready as we'll ever be, we'll walk away for the last time. We will enter a world which we know little of, a world which seemed so distant and foreign a few years ago a world that went unrecognized yesterday.

When we cross the threshold, our lives will be changed.

As we say farewell, I congratulate all of you in the class of 1980 upon your graduation.

I ask that you measure your experience here, not by the beauty of steel and bricks and mortar, but through the real worth of our school, which can only be determined by the quality and spirit and determination of those who form it. In this, you have played a vital role. I, therefore, implore you, as we enter the new decade of the eighties, to use the knowledge and experience you have gained at Fermi High School to enrich your future and those around you, to pull together to rid society of racial, ethnic and religious prejudices, and to bring peace and harmony into the world.

Graduation is one of the many crossroads in your life. As you reach for new adventures, keep alive the memories from Fermi High School and meet the future with great anticipation and self-confidence.

You have earned your diploma by hard work and perseverance. Our hats are doffed to you! We are proud of you and look forward to your future as members of our Alumni body.

Sincerely,

Mario A. Gentile

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1980, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Robert J. Kelleher, a man who has contributed much time and energy to our class.

Mr. Kelleher, a member of the English Department, has given freely of himself for the success of all of our class activities. As one of our class advisors, he has helped us as inexperienced sophomores in choosing our class rings, and as seniors in directing our magazine drive. Mr. Kelleher has chaperoned numerous dances, from our own Sophomore Initiation Dance to the final Farewell Prom. He, too, has helped at the float meetings, every fall, as the Homecoming Parade came closer. Even as responsibilities as the new faculty manager increased, they never took away from the hours spent chaperoning, supervising, and directing our events.

Thank you, Mr. Kelleher, for devoting so much of yourself as an advisor, teacher, and friend.

Fermi High is a world promising insight into many learning experiences. As sophomores, the environment seemed almost impossible to comprehend. We were nervous and unsure of ourselves. Now, a short three years later, we are confident and quite comfortable with our surroundings and see the school in a different perspective. The teachers have educated us and now we must use that education to shape our future.

Graduation for the class of 1980 is as unique as the class itself for it occurs at the onset of a new decade. This decade offers us new and challenging goals and aspirations, and it offers the potential for the further development of our abilities. The groundwork has been laid, and now it is up to us to take full advantage of that foundation in order to effect a positive and lasting change in our lives.

It is a time full of hope, promise, happiness, and sadness. We will always remember the good times, and we will look forward to new and better times. As we leave Enrico Fermi High School let each of us do so with pride. We have accomplished as much together as we have done individually. We are grateful for what was given to us while we were here, and realize that this is but the first of a lifetime of learning experiences.

Craig A. Bernard, President
Class of 1980

AFTER GLOW

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.

I'd like to leave an echo
whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times
and bright and sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve,
to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
When life is done.

While we seem to be struggling through a winless drought, there are definite signs of hope for the future. We have played very hard this year, being out of just 4 or 5 games. Our offense scored more goals than last year (10), and our defense allowed fewer goals (18).

It continues to be a pleasure to participate with such fine athletes who demonstrate outstanding team spirit year after year. Winning isn't everything, but we sure look forward to it next season.

The girls' varsity volleyball team had an outstanding season this year. The girls totaled 582 points in 18 games. Our strengths pulled us through only two CCIL wins this season, but the memories of those games will remain forever.

The J.V. team sported the best record of any team for the fall. The girls scored 441 points and ended with a 10-8 record.

I'm looking forward to a very well put together team that will surprise the league and Fermi. We need girls that want to work hard at a fun sport, so join us in 1980 — we'd love to have you.

This past year we had the most successful cross country season in the history of the school. This team recorded the most wins and the lowest times at a meet for the first five runners. They finished 10th out of 22 teams in the State LL Meet and 11th out of 28 in the K of C Meet.

The team was led by three senior captains, John Lynch, Jim Patterson, and Dave Hancock, who excelled in leadership and ability. John Lynch made the C.C.I.L. all-star first team. Jim Patterson and Junior Joe Swiatek made honorable mention.

The League and the state will no longer recognize Fermi as an easy win. This was accomplished through hard work, individual fortitude and a determination that only a runner can experience.

Best of luck to our graduating seniors Dave Hancock, John Lynch, Jim Patterson, and Terry Preston.

1979 became the year when Girls' Cross-Country arrived on the scene at Fermi. And what a year it was! Fourteen girls joined this most rigorous sport and immediately applied themselves to the task of competing against well-established League teams and girls who had, in some cases, four to five years of running experience. What we lacked in experience was soon compensated for by desire for personal and team achievement. By the end of the season, the girls had reached personal running times that they hadn't dreamed possible. In so doing, we were able to win one meet and show the other League Teams that Fermi Girls' Cross-Country would soon become a force to be reckoned with! All five of our top girls will be returning next year, with the remaining girls improving so rapidly, that they could become surprises, also. This exciting new Fall sport for girls is here to stay!

It has been said that it doesn't matter if you win or lose, it's how you play the game. This year, the field hockey team could identify with this statement. The varsity team played exceptional hockey all season, only to hold a record of 3-7-4. Improvement was a key word to the season as Fermi scored 18 goals, led by Senior Co-Captains Leah Secondo, with six and Lynnie Lapponese, with five. Our record is a poor indicator of this 1979 season. To say it was frustrating is but the tip of the iceberg.

I shall miss the individuality of the seniors, but wish to thank them for their skill, enthusiasm, effort, desire, and dedication. Your performance exemplified field hockey as it was meant to be played.

The girls' swim team was led this year by two fine senior Co-Captains Erin Welch, and Amy Hunt. An example of all-around team effort was shown in this year's swimmers by placing seven girls in the states. They were Co-Captain Erin Welch, Kara Welch, Paula Boulanger, Karen Boulanger, Jill Ingram, Morven Hunter, and Kay Dugan.

Kay also broke two of her individual school records. The 50 yard freestyle with a time of 27.4, and the 200 yard individual medley with a time of 238.4.

The Fermi Varsity Cheerleaders attended the International Cheerleading Foundation Clinic for the third consecutive year. The clinic was held at the University of Connecticut, and this year's squad took home the most ribbons. The cheerleaders were awarded these ribbons for best pyramids and stunts, best entrances and exits, and overall excellence.

The counselors at the clinic gave special recognition to Fermi's male cheerleader Chuck Theofiles and encouraged other teams to canvass male members for their squads as well.

The cheerleaders, led by Captains Cindy Samson and Kathy Golec, cheered for all the football and basketball games. In addition to these responsibilities, they marched in several parades, organized pep rallies, and painted posters.

The J.V. cheerleaders cheered only during the basketball season this year. They were led by Junior Lori Marcinowski and Sophomore Ann Hogan. This squad is the up and coming stronghold of future squads.

The 1979-80 Boys' Swim Team was led by six seniors. They are captains Mark Ottman and Gordon Henley, Jerry Cappa, Scott Townsend, Paul Vega, and Bob Avery. The 1979-1980 wrestling season turned out to be one of the finest seasons for the Falcons. After a quick 11-0 start, the team entered the CCIL with high hopes, only to settle with a 6-3 record which left them 17-3 overall.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Jan Ostrander (17-0); junior Jim Olson (15-1); Kelly Neale (17-1); Doug Girard (15-2-1); and Tim Desjardin (16-1).

Inspired by Coach Delvecchio's quotes, the team pulled together and all the gains made were by hard work and dedication on and off the mats.

The team and I would also like to thank all the people that supported the team throughout the year.

The 1979-1980 Boys' Basketball Team had high expectations for this season. The Falcons' Senior Co-Captains are Jim Patterson, and Terry Preston. The other senior members are Matt Kopec, Keith Percello, Al Golab, Tim Keene, and Bob Sokol. Midway through the C.C.I.L. season the Falcons had earned an 8-3 record.

Senior Keith Porcello has been leading the well-balanced offense with an average of 11.3 points per game. Matt Kopec and Al Golab have led the team with 8.7 and 8.6 rebounds per game averages, respectively.

This year's aggressive defense and the teams' overall positive attitude will surely lead the Falcons to a playoff berth in both the C.C.I.L. playoff and the State Tournament in February.

Fermi's Girls' Basketball Team has compiled a 10-8 overall record and a 10-6 C.C.I.L. record at the midpoint of the season. This accomplishment has enabled the girls to qualify for tournament play.

This year's team has been led by Senior Captains Carrie Blevins and Joyce Langan, along with Seniors Lynn Lapponese and Ann Marocchini.

The offense has been led by Senior Joyce Langan who averages 17 points per game. Junior Gretchen Pieper and Senior Lynn Lapponese have carried the team with a fine display on the offensive and defensive boards averaging 10.2 and 8.7 rebounds per game respectively.

The team has experienced well-balanced scoring through the first eighteen games. Hopefully, the leadership and over-all team play will enable the Falcons to go far in tournament play.

The 1979-80 Hockey Team worked hard throughout the season under the instructions of a new coach, John Bridge. It was primarily a new team with very few seasoned players.

The boys worked hard all year on strength and endurance with the never ending support and encouragement from the two Senior Captains Chris Gatto and Bob Winch. Seniors Jeff Peltola, John Mule, John Arnieri, Jerry LaBreck, Ed Williams and Ernie Bouthiette worked with the rookies to create a team equally strong in offense as well as defense. The underclassmen accepted the challenge eagerly.

The season was a disappointing one, but for the underclassmen who worked diligently there is great hope for a winning 1980-81 season.

In January, Mayor Fred Gelsi proclaimed the year 1980 as Enfield's Tercentenary Year. The Traces staff salutes our town's 300th birthday with a pictorial biography of the past century. Our thanks go to Mr. James Reveruzzi for his help in compiling the photographs used in this section.

Picture one, taken about 1890, is a bird's-eye view of the Bigelow-Sanford Mill. The second picture shows one of the buildings that comprised the Hazard Powder Company. The company was located in what is now called Powder Hollow, in the Hazardville section of Enfield.

Proclamation

Designating The Year 1980 As ENFIELD'S TERCENTENARY YEAR

WHEREAS, the year of 1980 will mark the 300th year since the date in 1680 when this community was first settled; and

WHEREAS, this Town has participated in the growth and prosperity of not only this State of Connecticut, but also of the nation; and

WHEREAS, a Tercentenary Commission has been established by the Town Council, and Mr. Anthony Secondo has been designated as Chairman Pro-Tem;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that I, Fred Gelsi, Mayor of Enfield, do hereby urge community participation and support for the Tercentenary Commission.

Fred Gelsi, Mayor
Enfield, CT

On page 150, the first picture is of the Old Black Mill, another part of the Bigelow-Sanford complex. The second picture is a view over that mill and the Connecticut River toward Suffield. Picture #3 is of the "Cora," the ferry that ran from Enfield to Suffield at the turn of the century.

The first picture on this page is of the "cracking mill," one of the buildings that comprised the Hazard Powder Company. It was at the cracking mill that gun powders were ground for usage. Another look at Hazardville, picture #2 is downtown Hazardville in 1895. The church on the right is the Methodist Church that still stands today.

One might have thought this picture was taken last week, but this picture of the Hazardville Institute (#1) was taken about 1897. It seems that time hasn't affected some things . . . Picture two is a look down North Main Street from the soldier monument in downtown Thompsonville. The two buildings shown opposite the scenes described above are of the Hazard Powder Company (#3), and the Bigelow-Sanford Mill (#4). These companies were largely responsible for the growth and development of Enfield as we know it today. Happy 300th Birthday, Enfield!

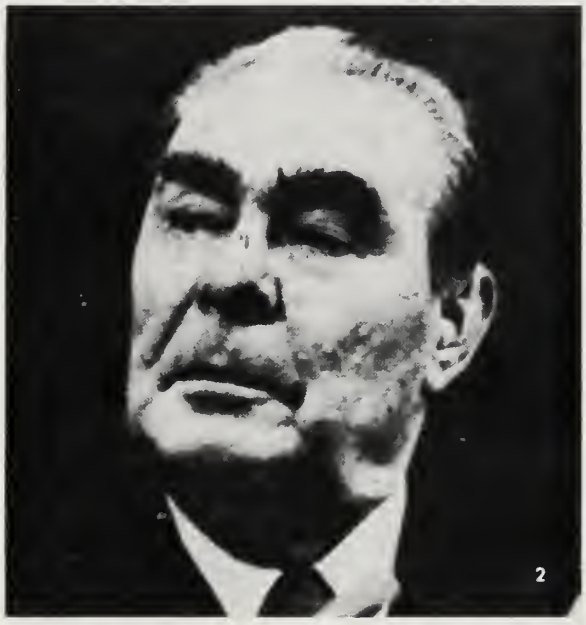

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEVENTIES

We lost faith in our government after Watergate, but watched in awe as our leaders became instrumental in ending an age-old battle between Egypt and Israel. We became increasingly dependent on foreign powers for energy, but the Bicentennial renewed a lost feeling of strength. Progress created panic at Three Mile Island, but wonder as "the Voyager" space probe was launched. During the seventies we discovered power and the need to control it. We found the determination to survive troubles and emerge victorious.

The past decade has revealed our strengths and weaknesses. To survive the next ten years, we must cultivate our strengths and ambitiously seek to conquer our weaknesses.

1. Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, TIME magazine's "Man of the Year", wreaks havoc throughout the world.
2. Leonid Brezhnev, the power behind the Afghanistan invasion, may cause Americans and their Allies to boycott the Moscow Summer Olympics.
3. President Jimmy Carter keeps informed of changing troubles that plagues the end of his presidency.

3. Billy Martin is hired again and again and again . . .
4. Runners ruled the road in the Seventies.
While it was a decade of people searching to "do their own thing," everyone seemed to be doing the same thing. Disco, roller-skating, hats, electronic games, self-help books and "no-nukes" were, and are still, current fads.

p. 159
1. R2D2 and all the once popular Star Wars droids seem to have fizzled out with the decade.
2. Bert Parks with his last Miss America.
3. Gas lines are a thing of the past but for how long?
In the race to keep up with the latest craze, many fads enjoyed just brief popularity. Rugby shirts, punk rock, droids, open collars, crock pots, and disaster movies all passed quickly. The decade was characterized by indecision.

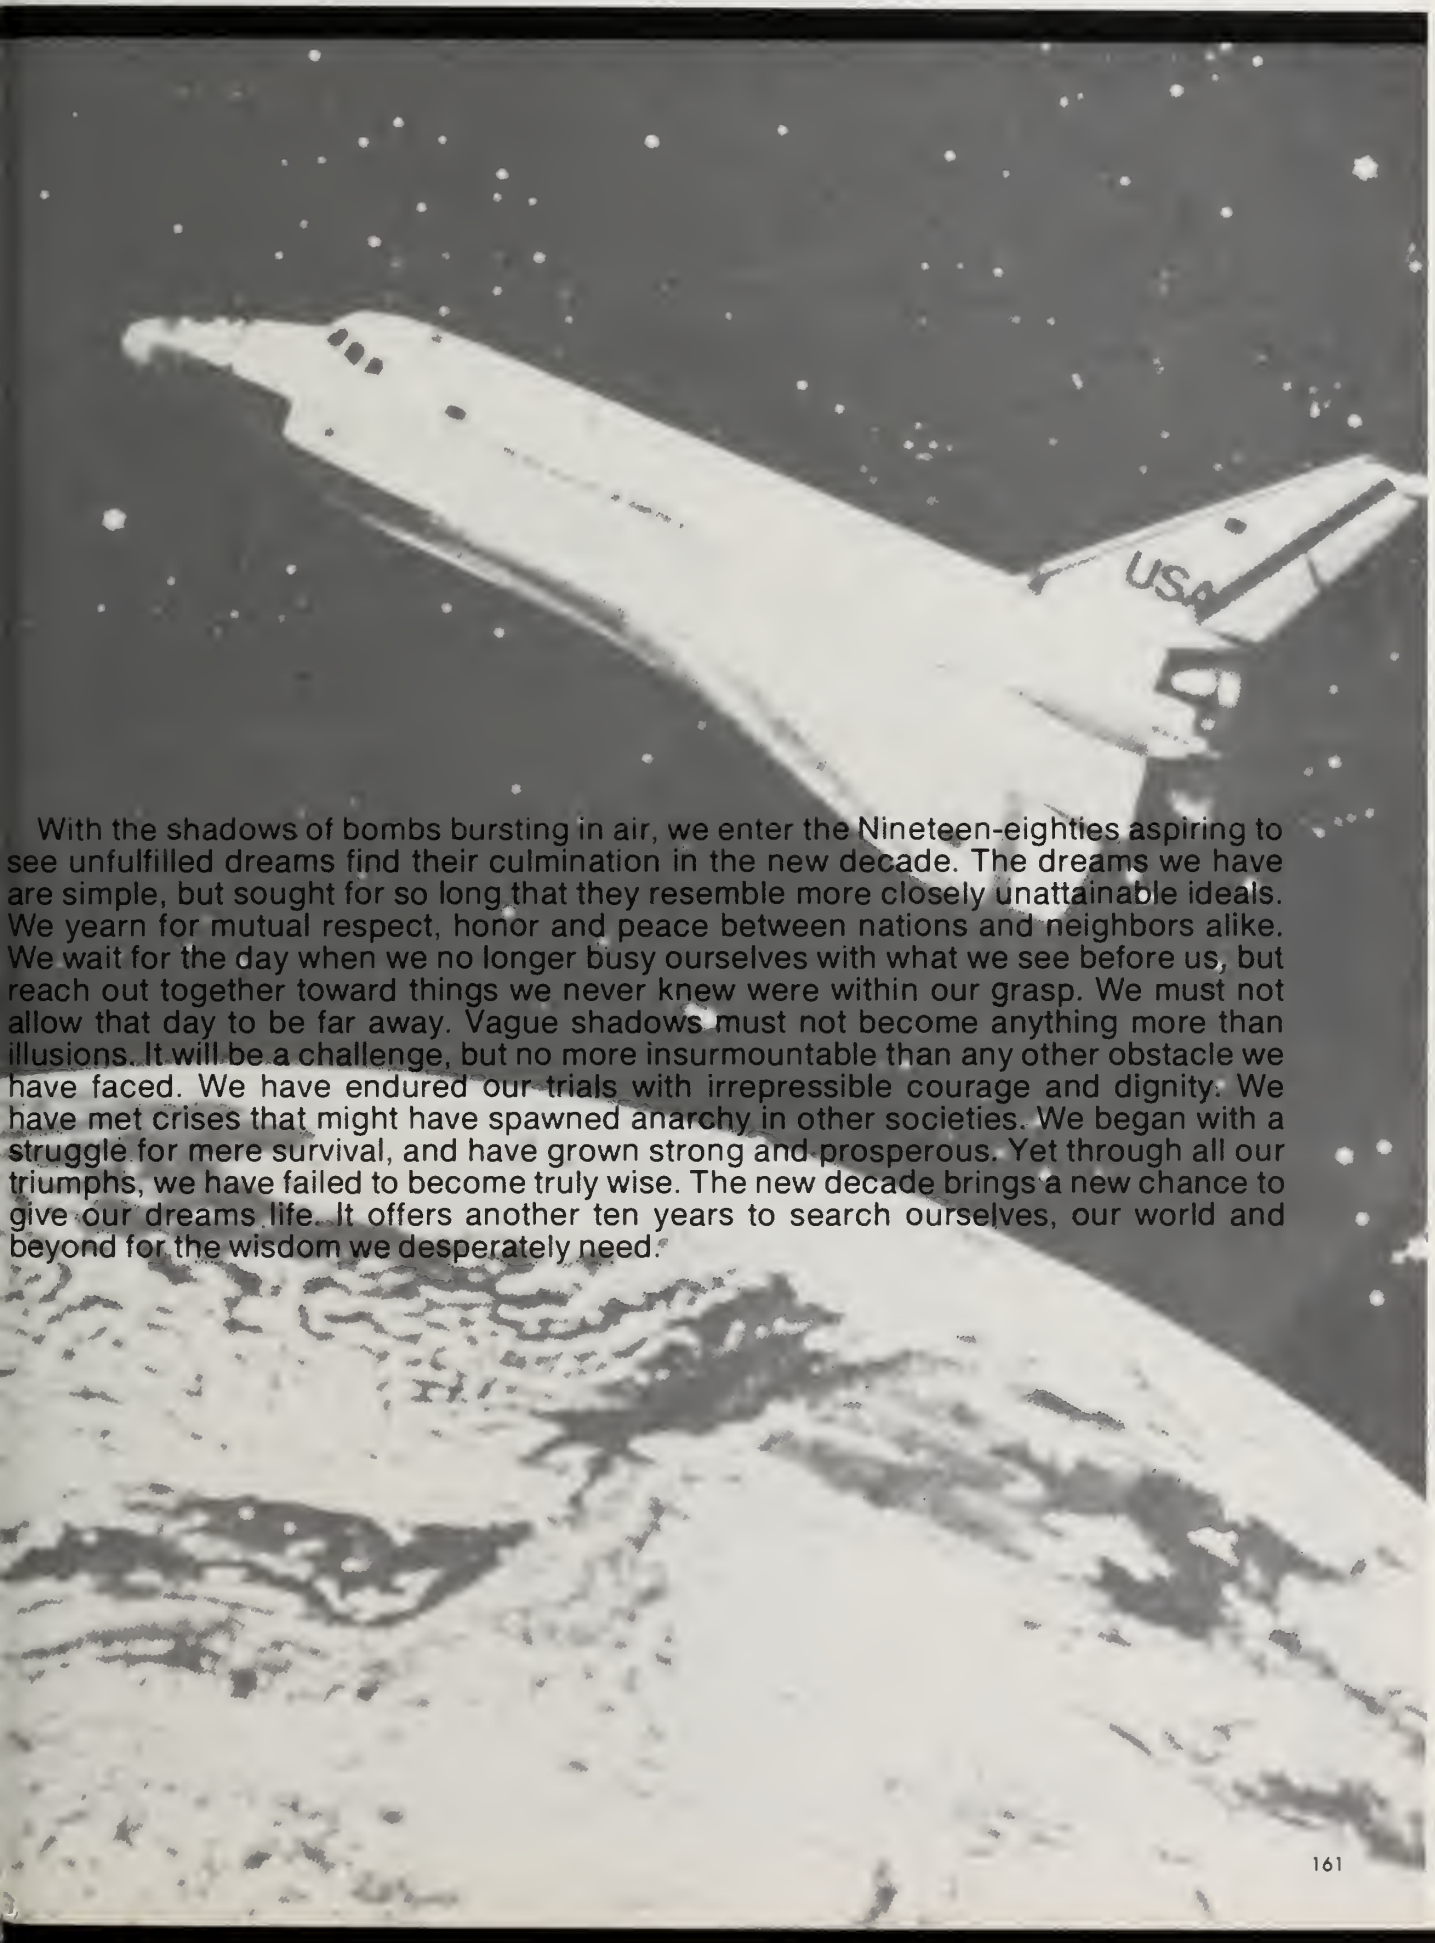

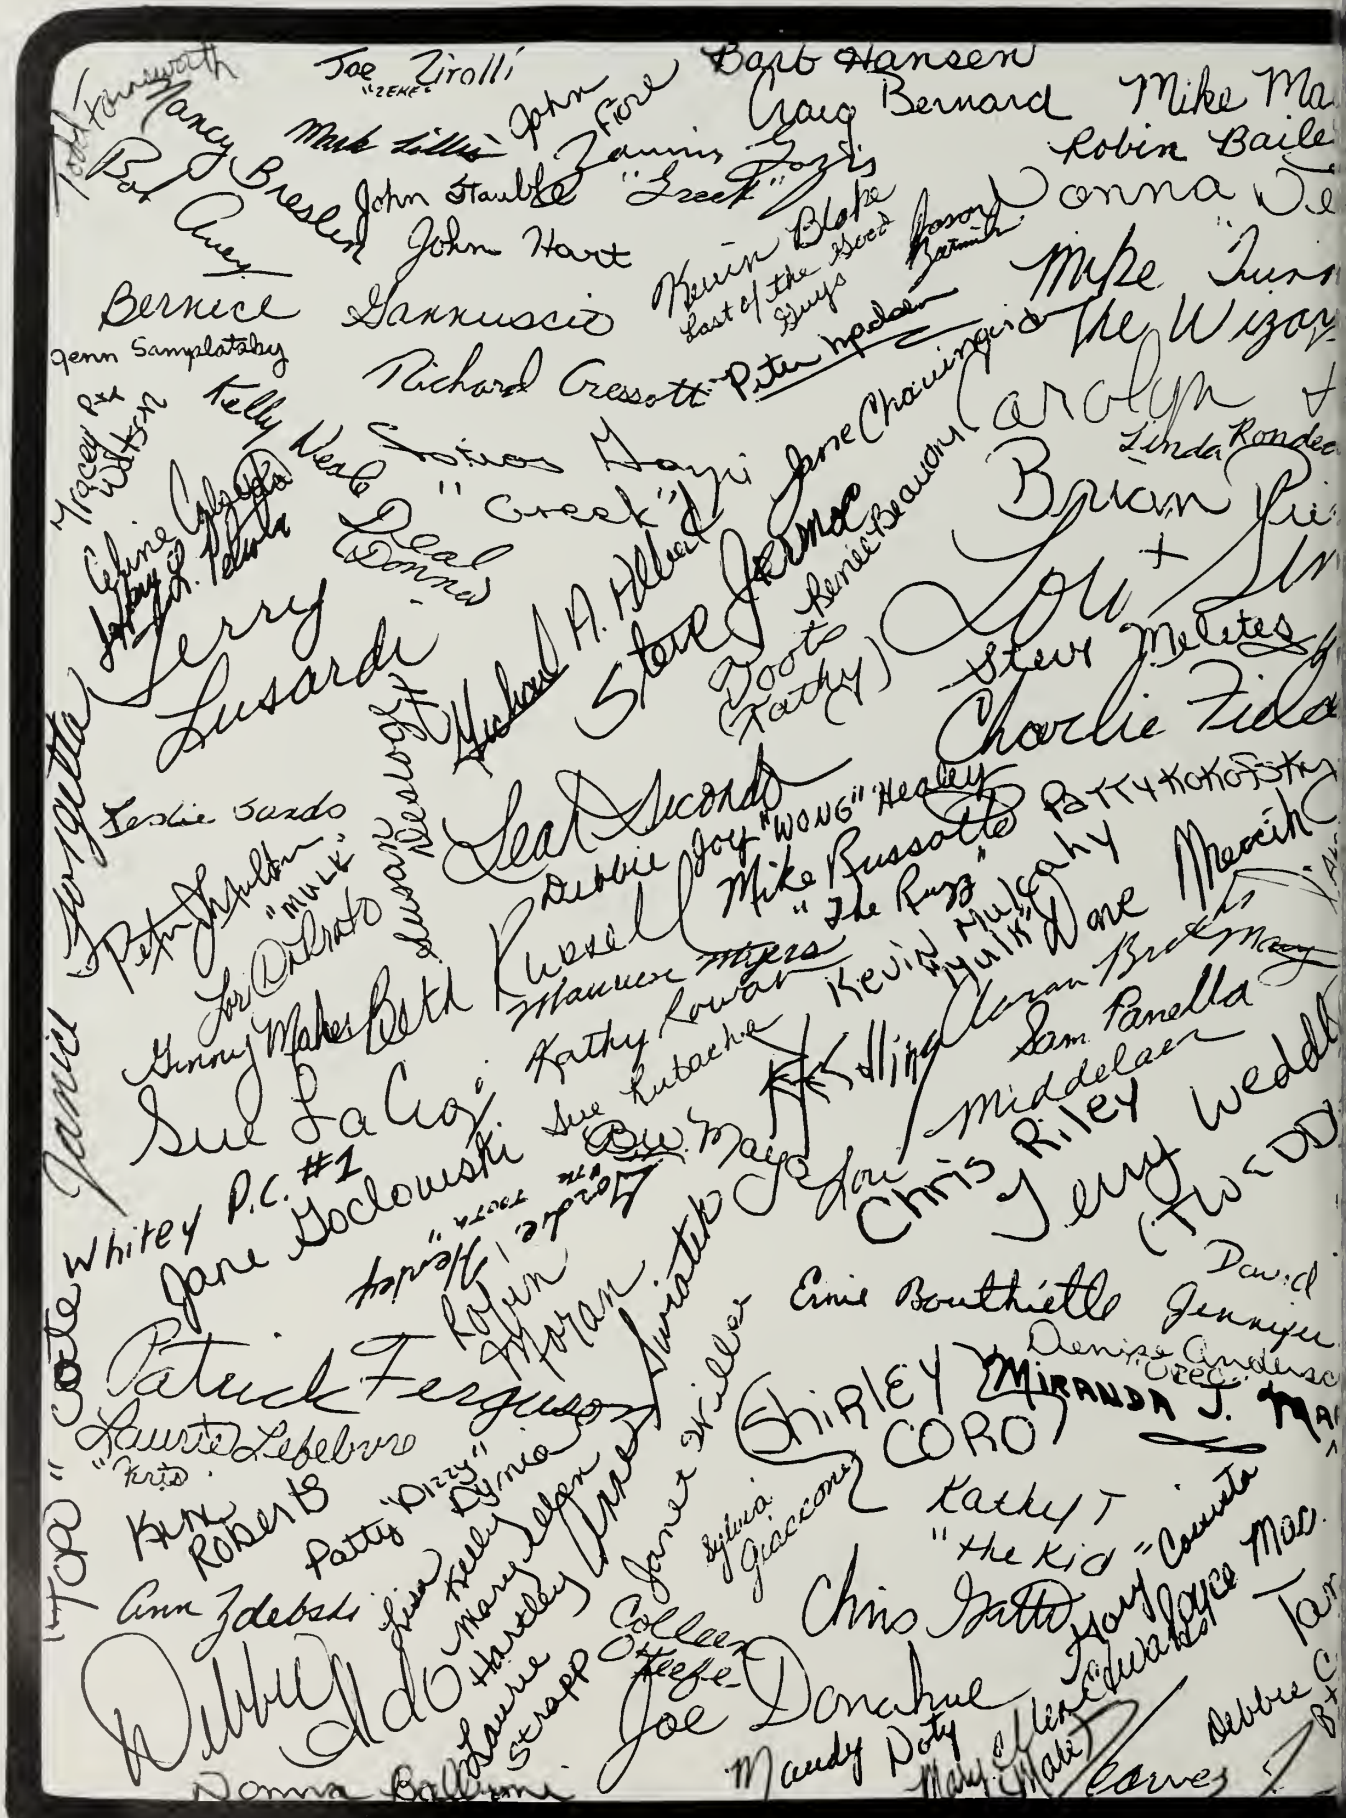

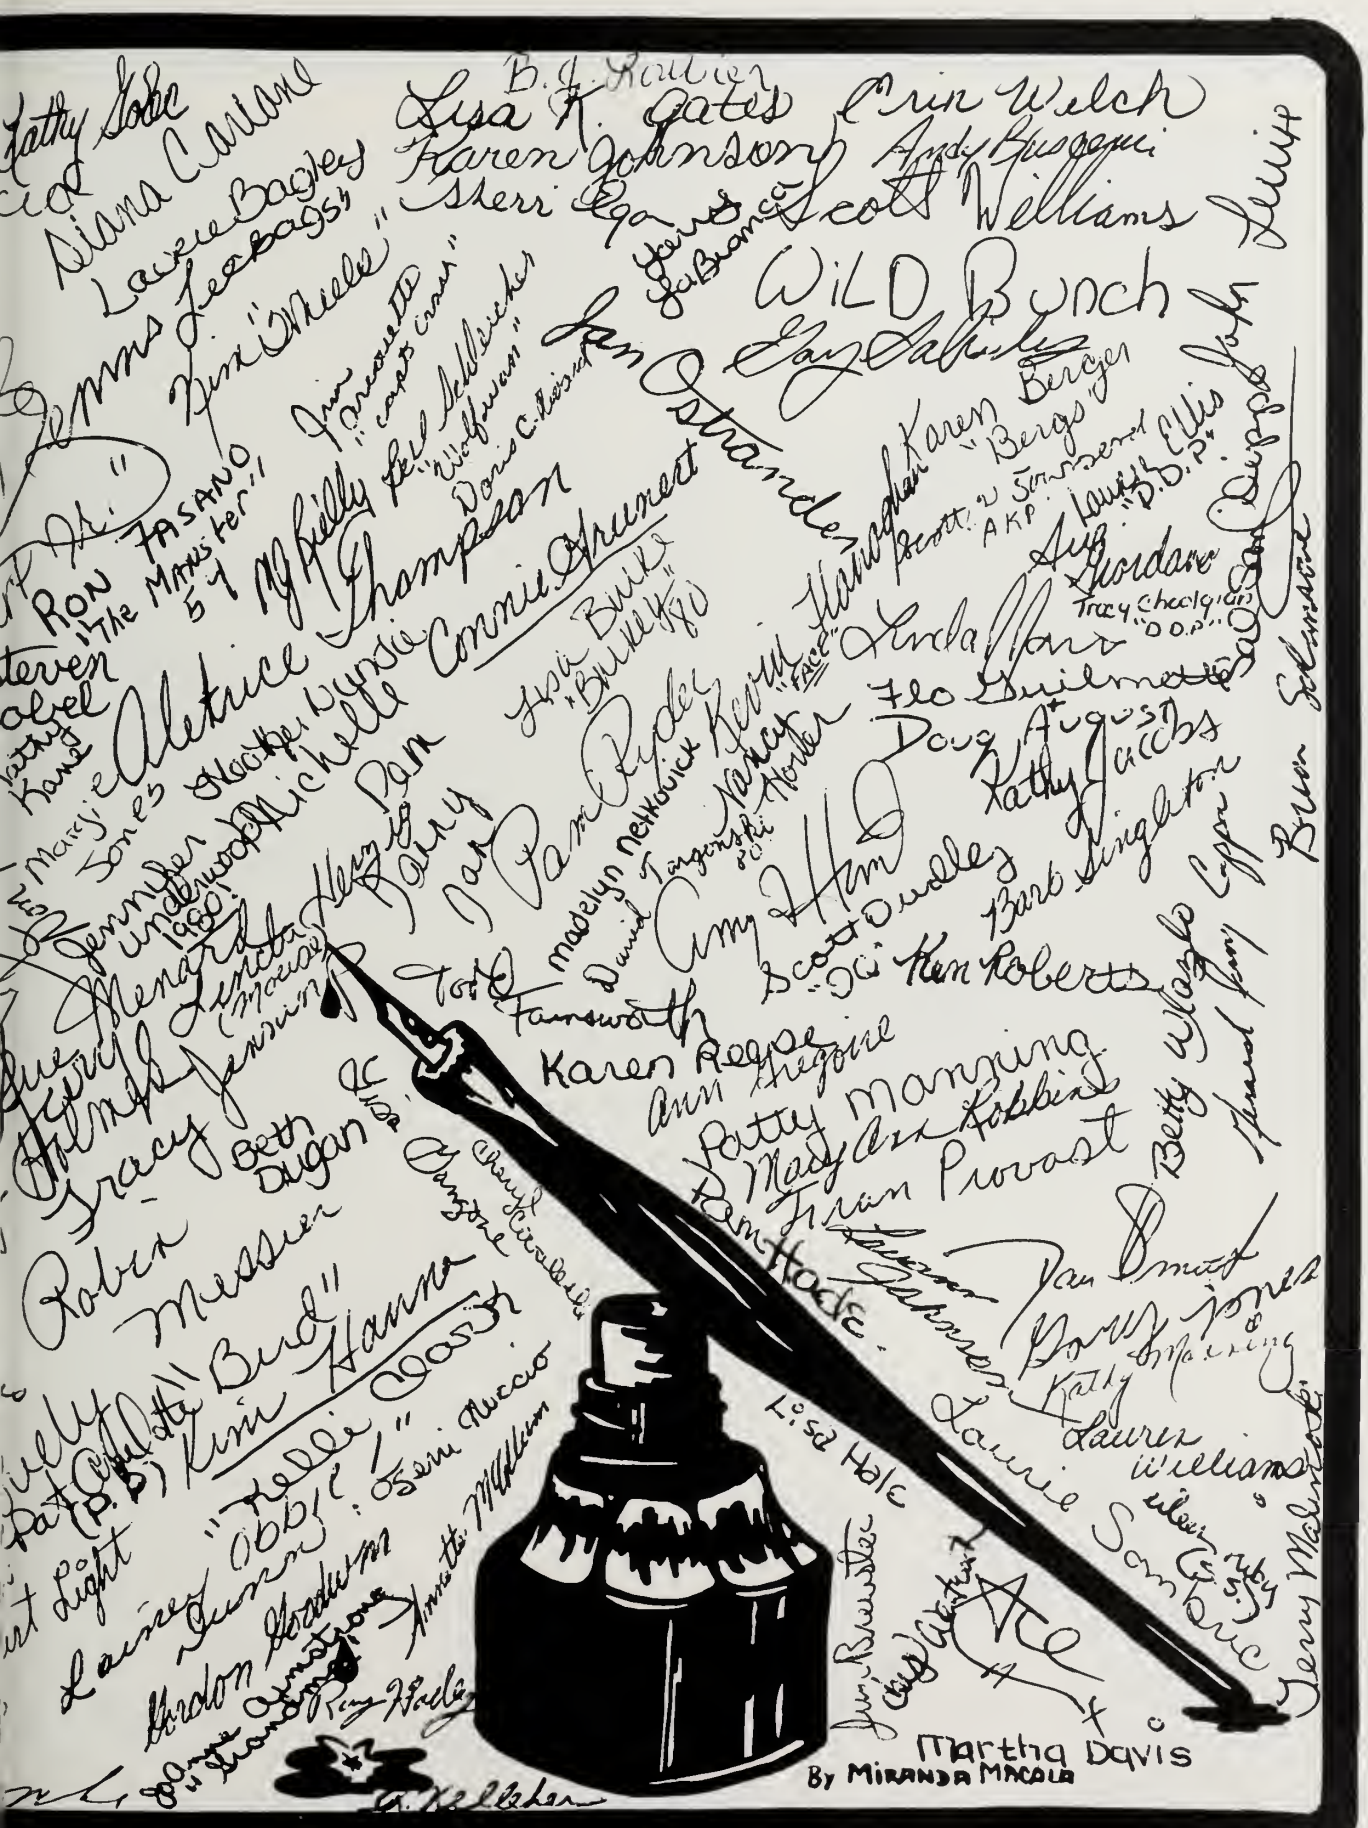

1. Elvis Presley, the king of rock 'n' roll, pictured at the height of his career, died in August, 1978.
2. Charlie Chaplin, star of many a silent picture, will nor soon be forgotten.
3. Arthur Fiedler conducted the Boston Pops Orchestra for many a decade.

The Seventies brought many tragedies, including the deaths of the following well-known figures: John Wayne, Bing Crosby, Thurman Munson, Pope Paul VI, Pope John Paul I, Walt Disney, Louis Armstrong, Francisco Franco, George Meany, Mao Tse Tung, Harry Truman, Golda Meir, Norman Rockwell, Hubert Humphrey, Groucho Marx, Margaret Mead, Nelson Rockefeller, Guy Lombardo and Jim Crockett.

With the shadows of bombs bursting in air, we enter the Nineteen-eighties aspiring to see unfulfilled dreams find their culmination in the new decade. The dreams we have are simple, but sought for so long that they resemble more closely unattainable ideals. We yearn for mutual respect, honor and peace between nations and neighbors alike. We wait for the day when we no longer busy ourselves with what we see before us, but reach out together toward things we never knew were within our grasp. We must not allow that day to be far away. Vague shadows must not become anything more than illusions. It will be a challenge, but no more insurmountable than any other obstacle we have faced. We have endured our trials with irrepressible courage and dignity. We have met crises that might have spawned anarchy in other societies. We began with a struggle for mere survival, and have grown strong and prosperous. Yet through all our triumphs, we have failed to become truly wise. The new decade brings a new chance to give our dreams life. It offers another ten years to search ourselves, our world and beyond for the wisdom we desperately need.
